

Jack Morton is an international brand experience agency, with offices around the world.

Writers.HK was approached to manage an editing project for one of the agency's long-term partners. Our responsibilities included rewriting, editing and proofreading copy provided, in English and Chinese. The final copy was eventually distributed internally among their partner's staff.

